ISN Travel Awards

ISN offers awards to young investigators to allow attendance to the biennial meetings. Investigators intending to submit abstracts as first author are eligible for support to attend the meeting.

The amount awarded will depend on projected travel costs and will be paid at or after the meeting. In addition awardees will be reimbursed for registration fees paid.

The award is not expected to cover full travel expenses.

Preference will be given to younger investigators (< 8 years from award of first doctoral degree, PhD/MD), research students and persons who have not previously received support and do not hold a permanent position.

TO APPLY:

Step One: Sign in to your My ISN account or create one at: My ISN Sign In

← click

Step Two: If you are not yet an ISN member apply for ISN membership. Click on Become a member within your MyISN account. After you have submitted your membership request you can proceed with the next step. Your membership application does not need to be approved in order to apply for the travel award application.

If you are an ISN member please make sure that you are current with your membership dues.

Step Three: Register for the ISN meeting and submit your abstract.

To register simply go to meeting registration and follow the instructions. On the second page you will find a section for free travel award registration. Click on "Request free travel award registration" and wait for your free registration code to be send to you!

After your meeting registration you can submit your abstract in the abstract section of your MyISN account.

Step Four: After you have applied for ISN membership, registered and submitted your abstract you will have access to the travel award application form. You'll find the travel award application form as well in the Submissions section.

Step Five: The online form will collect general information and request that you upload, in PDF format, the following documents (How to convert MS Word Documents to PDF Documents?):

1. A full curriculum vitae. (Sample CV)
2. A cover letter containing a statement about your career goals, how attending the ASN meeting will support these career goals and a justification of your financial need in attending the meeting.

Step Six: Submit online form and then view the accuracy of your application. You will be able to edit it until the application process closes.

If there are any questions about the application process, please email them to
